

weidmann

remodeling renovation

- WHOLE HOUSE
- ADDITIONS
- KITCHENS
- DESIGN

CONTINUOUS Developments

TIME After TIME

We have the opportunity to work with great people . . . and frequently, the pleasure of working with them more than once.

We love to work with people we like. It's that simple! Then, seeing plans come to life is as thrilling for us as it is for our clients; it's an enjoyable experience from design to completion.

After establishing a relationship with a client, the ultimate reward is being invited back to do another remodel together. In this newsletter, we feature a handful of such projects for repeat clients.

Attic Conversion - second project

In this traditional home, unused attic space was transformed to meet the needs of a family who lacked a traditional basement. The home is now complete with space for hours of entertainment. It even includes a "Model Train Room," which the owner is already building out.

Kitchen Remodel - third project

In this kitchen remodel, the homeowner's wanted to freshen up the current space, while the existing appliances and island were retained. New perimeter cabinets, countertops, backsplash and paint transformed the space.

New custom cabinetry provided a better organization of kitchen appliances and created better accessibility throughout.

Every detail was attended to in this remodel, including a beautifully crafted tile niche above the stove.

The outside of this home needed a pick me up. A more contemporary look drove the design. Beautiful sapele mahogany, Spanish cedar, steel, aluminum and glass completed the vision.

Whether a New or Repeat Client Achieving the Vision is Still Paramount

Many homeowners today are exploring how to remain in their current residence and make it their dream home for years to come. For most, it is as simple as reorganizing the current space. Helping with the vision of what is possible is where Weidmann comes in. As our families grow, adding additional living and entertaining space is a must and finding it in an attic is a plus. Opening up kitchens to better function and flow eliminates the desire for home-owners to move from the neighborhoods they love. Taking down walls, reorganizing and incorporating custom cabinetry gives new life to a family home. And, in the bath the possibilities are endless for creating a sanctuary for tomorrow.

Get ready to create your next dream space!

Front Porch Remodel - second project

Master Bath Remodel - eighth project

The homeowners wanted to step up their generously large master bathroom. This new remodel included the addition of a steam shower, personalized water temperature controls, aromatherapy, natural materials and custom cabinetry that afforded more convenient and functional storage areas.

Master Bath Remodel - second project

Here is a room where the space and flow worked, but the Master Bath needed a change up. We worked within the existing footprint, introducing transitional fixtures and paint colors to soften the bath. A curbless shower was introduced, as well as a new deck for the tub. All together the new style and elements create a relaxing get away.

New Clients -

- Trevor & Telia Burgess
- Gary & Joan Chamblee
- Gavin & Jessica Cloy
- Gray & Marge Crouse
- Bill & Jennifer Gottschalk
- John & Catherine Griner
- Jay & Pamela Hanket
- Tom & Leta Hughes
- Helen Hurd
- Mary Kojis
- Charles & Peggy Martin
- Bruce McClelland & Franza Schmidt
- Grant Segal
- Michael & Ann Thompson
- Teresa Tomlinson
- Dave & Sue Wilson
- Andrew Zadoff & Kathryn Rawlins

Repeat Clients -

- Gregg & Sarah Bundschuh
- Charley & Wendy Corbett
- Dave & Margaret Crow
- Tom & Ann Fuller
- Dewey & Margaret Hodges
- Colin & Dominique Weber

Thank you - The Weidmann & Associates, Inc. Team

Special Thanks To Our Newsletter Sponsors

www.weidmannremodeling.com
 1875 Old Alabama Rd., Suite 1310
 Roswell, GA 30076
 Weidmann & Associates, Inc.

